

Department of Anaesthesia Jhargram Govt. Medical College & Hospital Vidyasagarpally, Jhargram

Indian Society of Anaesthesiology in association with Dept of Anaesthesiology of Jhargram govt medical college organized CME cum workshop of Pain Medicine and Usg guided regional anaesthesia on 5th May 2024 at Hospital Campus of Jhargram Medical College. It was attended by 87 participants including faculties and delegates making it a grand success. The day started with the topics Cervical epidural anaesthesia and Thoracic segmental spinal anaesthesia presented by the delegates. Followed by master class on cancer pain management including topics like celiac plexus and hypo gastric plexus block.

Around 9.30 AM inauguration was done by respected Principal Dr Susmita Bhattacharya, followed by lamp lighting ceremony and some words of wisdom were shared by her.

The next 6 hours were spent in workshops of USG guided regional Anaesthesia with live demonstration on healthy volunteers in 5 different USG stations. The day concluded with felicitation and closing words of enthusiasm by respected faculties.

This was the first time such an enormous and excellent workshop was organised at Jhargram Medical College, dispersing knowledge, enthusiasm among the young learners and hands on experience of ultrasound which will surely be fruitful for their future endeavours. This kind of workshop will surely pave the way for upliftment of undergraduate as well as post graduate education at Jhargram Medical college and Hospital and will inspire various departments to organize such brilliant CME cum workshops in the near future.
